

And what's in your keyboard?

Saliva

Food particles

Dead skin cells

Nasal droppings

Eyelashes

Body fat

Hair

You'd be surprised at just what ends up in the average keyboard! And if it's shared with others, you get their bits of dropped food, crisps, eyelashes – need we go on?

Use the best selling and most efficient product on the market – Sprayduster which emits powerful jets of air to literally blow away debris and unwanted particles.

Keep the keys clean and in good working order using Ultraclene wet and dry anti-bacterial cleaning wipes. And for a thorough clean use powerful Foamclene with PC Buds to reach right into the crevices.

Clean equipment means a clean and healthy environment, so regular use of the best selling dedicated cleaners promotes better health, less absenteeism through illness, and sound commercial sense.
